

Capabilities Statement

Ewing Components, Inc. is an authorized distributor of a wide range of board level electronic components (active, passive and electromechanical). We supply leading edge, current, obsolete and hard to find components.

We are now, and have been for the past 25 years, committed to 100% customer satisfaction. Through our global resources we supply a wide range of customers, large and small, with world class service at competitive pricing. Our specialties include supplying our customer base with both troublesome components and Just-In-Time (JIT) needs.

Ewing Electronics, Inc. is ISO9001:2008 certified. Our QC standards are second to none. All products and services meet or exceed stringent quality guidelines. All of our employees demand “100% accuracy in all that we do.” Our dedication and teamwork sets us apart from our competitors. We view our company as an extension of your procurement and sourcing department. Our philosophy is simple, “Your Success is our Success!”

Our products and services are separated into the following groups:

- Traditional Distribution: We offer products supplied from our many authorized manufacturers. We procure, warehouse and ship to our customers per (JIT) Just in Time schedules. In addition we offer an international sourcing service for obsolete and hard to find products.
- Cross Referencing/Alternate Sourcing: We offer our customers the option of having alternate, direct cross products available to insure against work stoppage in the event a component becomes hard to get or obsolete.
- Worldwide Sourcing: Through our global resources we offer a unique sourcing service. With over a 2,000 strong worldwide vendor base we have the ability to locate the most difficult, obsolete and allocated parts. Think of Ewing as an extension of your procurement department and use us for all of your “search and rescue” needs.
- Surplus Consignment Program: We assist our customers in liquidating their surplus inventory while maximizing their return. Ask us what we can do for your company.
