

Ewing Electronics, Inc.'s components division is an authorized distributor of a wide range of board level electronic components (active, passive and electromechanical). We supply leading edge, current, obsolete and hard to find components.

We are now, and have been for the past 25 years, committed to 100% customer satisfaction. Through our global resources we supply to a wide range of customers, large and small, with world class service at competitive pricing. Our specialties include supplying our customer base with both troublesome components and Just-In-Time (JIT) needs.

Ewing Electronics, Inc. is ISO9001:2000 certified. Our QC standards are second to none. All products and services meet or exceed stringent quality guidelines. All of our employees demand "100% accuracy in all that we do." Our dedication and teamwork sets us apart from our competitors. We view our company as an extension of your procurement and sourcing department. Our philosophy is simple, "Your Success is our Success!"
